

TOSHIKO YUASA LABORATORY

2016 YOUNG INVESTIGATOR AWARD

FRANCE-JAPAN PARTICLE PHYSICS

2016 TYL-FJPPL Young Investigator Award

- 2016 is TYL-FJPPL 1st year for its Young Investigator Award
- the aim of the TYL-FJPPL Young Investigator Award is to highlight and promote the individual work of junior scientists active within the TYL-FJPPL French and Japanese teams.
- the TYL-FJPPL Young Investigator Award will reward up to two PhD students or postdoctoral researchers every year, based on the excellence of their contribution to one of the TYL-FJPPL supported collaborative projects.
- the nominations should include a brief description of the work and particular contribution of the candidate (half page to one page long), a CV and at least one letter of recommendation (deadline for application was February 28 2016).
- as part of the award, selected candidates will be invited by the TYL-FJPPL to present their work during an Award Ceremony at the next TYL-FJPPL annual workshop.

2016 TYL-FJPPL Young Investigator Award

5 outstanding candidates !

Martino Borsato	LHCb, Universidad Santiago de Compostella, LAL Orsay
Emmanuel Chauveau	superNemo, double Chooz, CENBG Bordeaux, Tohoku University, University of Manchester)
Taichiro Koga	T2K, University of Tokyo
Shogo Okada	Geant4 medical application, KEK, KOBELCO
Hiroki Yokoyama	ALICE, University of Tsukuba, LPSC Grenoble

evaluation made by 4 persons : 2 from Japan 2 from France and the winner is ...

Laboratoire de Physique des Particules Toshiko Yuasa

Prix du Jeune Chercheur 2016

湯浅年子ラボラトリー若手研究者賞

Décerné à : Emmanuel Chauveau

Pour ses travaux de recherche sur les neutrinos avec l'expérience Double Chooz (projet NU_03)

Date 18.5.2016

Signature

Signature

L

asa

Décerné

au

Signature

