

Since 2016	Head of the NRC-network
Since 2015	Member of the German Commission for Radiation Protection
Since 2014	Vice chair of the Nuclear Chemistry Section of the (GdCh)
Since 2013	Spokesperson of the interdisciplinary research platform ENTRIA
2012 – 2015	Member of the extended governing board of the German Society for Mass Spectrometry (DGMS)
Since 2012	Full Professor at the Leibniz Universität Hannover (Germany) and Head of the Institute of Radioecology and Radiation Protection
2008-2012	Deputy head of the Actinide Analytics department at INE-KIT
2008	Habilitation in Nuclear Chemistry, Department of Chemistry, Pharmacy und Geosciences, University of Mainz
2001-2012	Group leader Development of speciation methods at INE-KIT

Schneider, S.; Walther, C.; Bister, S.; Schauer, V.; Marcus Christl³; Synal, H.-A.; Shozugawa, K.; Steinhauser, G., Plutonium release from Fukushima Daiichi fosters the need for more detailed investigations. Nature Sci Rep. 2013.

<https://www.irs.uni-hannover.de/walther.html>