IST:Forecasts programme:

IMPORTANT NOTE: please note that this is a working hack-meeting focused on editing and finishing the IST paper. It is not meant to be a meeting to update people on IST activities.

People who are not active in IST can still join and propose their own hack ideas during the meeting, i.e. topics they wish to propose and arrange for work in groups in parallel.

Please note that attending the meeting and taking part in the hack session does not result in authorship of the IST paper, which is already in an advanced state. Except that normal Euclid Publication Policy rules will apply. Participants wishing to help revising and editing are very welcome and may be added in the acknowledgements.
