

Citizen Science with Machine Learning

jeudi 3 décembre 2020 15:45 (1 heure)

Many modern analysis pipelines rely on machine learning or deep learning to process large datasets. Citizen science can be used to help generate training datasets for machine learning models and those models can then be used to accelerate retirement in citizen science projects. We will show with examples how you can integrate machine learning with your Zooniverse project.

Orateurs: DICKINSON, Hugh (The Open University); WALMSLEY, Mike (University of Oxford)

Classification de Session: Tutorials